

Disclaimer

The Content we develop for you is based on the material and information you provide to us and we rely on you providing (and you warrant that you provide) accurate and up to date material and information. The Content is not comprehensive, it is for general information purposes only and it is not a substitute for tailored workplace health and safety policies, and safe work practices such as the use of PPE. We make no representation or warranty as to the accuracy and completeness of the Content and we make no guarantee that the Content will assist you in complying with applicable workplace health and safety laws.